

Photograph by Bob Zeller, January 14, 2017. Billings Gazette

Every January young Northern Cheyenne students run a seven-day, 400-mile journey from Fort Robinson, Nebraska, to their reservation in Montana. This event is called the Fort Robinson Spiritual Run and it commemorates the "Fort Robinson Outbreak of 1879," when their Cheyenne ancestors attempted to escape imprisonment and punishment at Fort Robinson.