

---

“I remember we'd go to Puyallup River and gather clams and oysters and crab and salmon, and we'd have fish bakes. . . . Everybody would come together and share all this food.”

Nancy Shippentower (Puyallup), NMAI Interview, July 2016

---

As in many cultures, food brings communities together.